Photographing Alaska's shorebirds from the Copper River Delta to Arctic breeding grounds

FREE

Presented by: Milo Burcham

PUBLIC WELCOME

Milo Burcham is a full-time biologist and part-time photographer living in Cordova, AK. He will give tips and etiquette on photographing Alaska's shorebirds, with emphasis on the incredible migration that passes through the Copper River Delta each spring. After reaching Alaska from their southern wintering grounds, they disperse to various breeding grounds in the Arctic, western Alaska, and at many other locations throughout the state. Milo will talk about their biology and share his images of these incredible migrants.
